STATEMENT TO MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT

Primary Evidential Record

17 September 2026

I am placing on the Parliamentary and public record the attached Consolidated Exhibit of Open Correspondence, 7-15 September 2026.

The exhibit preserves the open correspondence and associated transmission records concerning the first bounded reconstruction undertaken as part of The Saghro Files - Independent Evidential Reconstruction. That reconstruction concerns two digital devices surrendered into a court-connected evidential process for examination. The devices were never forensically examined. Their current whereabouts are unknown.

WHERE IS THE DIGITAL EVIDENCE?

The current whereabouts of the Imerman devices are unknown. Their identification, location and accounting are not optional matters of administrative convenience. They concern my legal rights and the integrity of the evidential process. I am demanding my right to know where the evidence is, who has or had custody of it, what happened to it, and to obtain a substantive determination of those matters on the public record.

The substantive evidential and due-process issues are set out in my Open Correspondence of 15 September 2026, which is attached separately and preserved within the consolidated exhibit. I do not repeat that evidence here. The documentary record now speaks for itself.

The consolidated exhibit establishes the chronology of correspondence and transmission from 7-15 September 2026, including the recipients, documents transmitted, underlying email records and express requests for acknowledgment.

As at 17 September 2026, no acknowledgment of the completed three-email transmission of 15 September has been received, no substantive response has been received, and no engagement with the matters raised has been communicated to me.

Construction of the independent Primary Evidential Record continues. Its purpose is to preserve and reconstruct the evidence, provenance, custody, submissions, decisions and institutional responses necessary for material recorded findings and outcomes to be independently tested against the evidence and processes from which they arose.

I am placing this record before Members of Parliament because a basic evidential question remains unanswered:

Where is the digital evidence?
